Three Men Shot in the Robbery of an Iowa Bank.

ONE OF THE BANDITS KILLED.

er Leach and Merchant James Bailey Wounded by the Daring Robbers.

Special to The Post-Dispetch.

ADEL In., March 5.—Two bandits whose names are yet unknownrivaled the Daltons in daring in this town to-day.

The result is two citizens, S. M. Leech and James Balley, are wounded, one bandit killed and the other captured.

The two men drove into town at 9 o'clock this morning and proceeded at once to the State Bank of Adel. They hitched their horse to a post at the curb and entered the bank, attracting no attention from the few persons on the street in the vicinity.

The only persons in the bank at the time

Persons on the street in the vicinity.

The only persons in the bank at the time were Cashier S. M. Leech and James Balley, a merchant and contractor.

The spokesman of the two rebbers informed Mr. Leech that he desired to make a deposit, who advanced to the counter to a deposit, who advanced to the counter to transact the business.

He had just reached the counter, when the robber covered him with a revolver and ordered him to throw up his hands.

Mr. Leech sprang back towards the vault and endeavored to close it, but as he did so one of the bandits fired and the cashier fell to the floor, wounded in the side.

In the meantime Mr. Balley started to run out of the door, but was brought down by a bullet from the pistol of the second robber.

The men then proceeded to gather up all the money in sight, which they placed in a sack and hurried to the street.

In a moment they were in the buggy and driving as fast as the horse could run out of town, firing right and left as they fied. The firing attracted the attention of every one near the bank and while the robbers were getting into their vehicle at least a hundred citizens had gathered in the streets. In a few minutes fifty men on horseback were in pursuit of the fleeing bandits.

Shortly before noon they were overtaken near a farm house, their horse having given out. They fert the buggy and took refuge in a hay shed. The shed was surrounded by the citizens, armed with platen. rounded by the citizens, armed with pistols and shot-guns, and the bandits were called pursuers. Many shots were exchanged, and finally the shed was set on fire.

As it began to burn, one of the fugitives came out and gave himself up. The others made a break for his liberty, but was brought down by one of the drawn guns leveled at him. He was fatally wounded, and was left at the farm house. The posse returned to town with the captured robber.

The money taken from the bank amount-ed to $4,100, in gold, silver and paper money. Such an exciting man hunt never took place before in this State. The whole country was aroused, farmers joining in the pursuit as the posse galloped along the highway after the robbers.

country was aroused, farmers joining in the pursuit as the posse galloped along the highway after the robbers.

A message was sent to Des Moines, twenty-two miles away for a detachment of police. They came on to Adel by special train. Here they took horses, and armed with Winchesters joined the pursuit.

The Des Moines contingent got in at the death, the towns people having killed one robber and taken the other before the arrival of the officers.

The scene of the capture was near De Soto, sen miles from Adel.

Mr. Leach, though seriously wounded, gives this account of the robbery:

"This morning I went down to the bank and opened it in the usual manner. I was ready for business with safe and vaults open at about $50 o'clock. There were in the bank beside myself Mr. Balley and Mr. Fair. Two strangers entered immediately and stated that they wished to deposit some money in the bank. The strangers attracted no great attention, were rather shabilly dressed and when they said that they wanted to deposit money I went forward to accommodate them. Pointing to a bag of silver lying near by one of them said give us that sack of money.

"I failed to understand them at first, and said in a minute. Then, taking a second look, I asked 'What do you mean?"

"Without replying they opened fire and grabbed the sack of silver and ran. After I was wounded I took a bag of gold coin and paper money, amounting to several thousand dollars, threw it inside the vault and locked the door.

As the robbers passed out of town, shooting in all disections, one of the bullets struck Mr. J. M. Byers, abstractor and lawyer, in the hand and one in the arm. Cecil Decker, a boy, was also hit. It is thought they will recover.

Mr. Balley was seriously wounded in the fieshy part of the neck, and the top of his shoulder was torn away.

S. M. Leach, the wounded cashier, was removed to his residence, and the physicians have removed fifty-seven heavy shot from his body. He says the robbers carried sawed-off shot guns, and did not use their pigtols.

RECREANT ATHER HOUST. in Edwardsville. No Trace of Whence His Last Message Came.

Whence His ast Message Came.

The day after B Peter Houst fled from the parochial resistance adjoining the Bohemian Catholic Careh on Eleventh street near Soulard Fr. Lessoun, the pastor, received a postal from him dated Edwardsville, Ill., saying he was visiting friends there, but would resure home ina few days. A Post-Dispatch reporter, who went to Edwardsville, was unable to find any trace of the missing priest there. There is quite a settlement of Bohemians in Edwardsville, but, having no church of their own, they attend St. Mary's Catholic Church, of which Rev. Fr. O'Reilly is pastor. Fr. O'Reilly, a remarkably handsome young man, told the correspondent that he was almost certain Fr. Houst had not arrived in Edwardsville since he left St. Louis, as he had not called on him, nor had be heard of Fr. Houst stopping with any of the Bohemian families who constitute one hird of his parish.

Fr. Houst has been in Edwardsville several times, though, he said, to administer to the spiritual wants of the Bohemians, but the last time was in February, 1894. Jacob Schnaberg, a leading Bohemian member of the parish, who lives on Vandalia avenue, near St. Louis avenue, when seen said he was postitive Fr. Houst had not visited any of the Edwardsville Bohemians, for if he had, Mr. Schnaberg said, he would certainly have known of it. Mr. Schnaberg said his countrymen were greatly shocked by Fr. Houst's doings, as he had always stood very high among them. The only way in which Mr. Schnaberg or Fr. O'Reilly could account for the postal card was that Fr. Houst had stopped off a train long enough to mail it here and thus throw pursuers off the track. They both though that he was to Fr. Houst's whereabouts, the Edwardsville postal bettil the only word received from him.

It is said by the grocers that these stores work great injury to the grocery business by cutting prices below cost in many instances in order to draw trade. This does serious injury to both the retail and wholesale trade, hence the joint meeting.

The Associated Wholesale Grocers will be represented by Messrs. Jacob Furth, President; Wm. E. Schweppe, E. G. Scudder and Charles Gildehaus. The Retail Grocers' Association will be represented by Messrs. Afex McCabe, T. Conner, Chas. B. Gibson and Fred Busche.

MRS. DIEDERICH KENSMANN. (Murdered in Kansas City.)

But he is gone and the newly made bride, long since past the middle term of life, is again left alone. WHY DID DIEDERICH LEAVE?

WHY DID DIEDERICH LEAVE?
Why did Diederich Kensmann of Carondelet disappear so auddenly? He was not the Kansas City man; he had never been there in his life according to his own words—and surely he ought to know. But no thief over whom the judgment of the law ever hung; no murderer with the shadow of the gallows upon his head ever fied more precipitately or more secretly than this German tailor, who but two weeks before had gained a bride and a home and seemed ready to settle down for life.

There must have been something more guilty man, for he missed the noose by the narrowest of margins.

But if he were not this individual, why should he run away and leave his bride behind, with all her life-long neighbors to point their fingers at her and tell her what she had married, and that she was lucky to be free of him, for she, too, might have gone the same way.

And this is just what they all are doing, for no argument can make those people believe that "cruzy old Diederich Hensmann, as they now call their missing fellow citizen, was not the same man who faced a Jackson County Jury on trial for his life.

ALL ARE FRIENDS OF SILVER MONEY

Six of the Delegates to the International Monetary Conference.

Upon England's Action Depends the Outcome of the Proposed Currency Reform.

WASHINGTON, March 6.-The Senators and members chosen as the representatives of their especial houses to the proposed international monetary commission have so far very indefinite ideas as to what wil be expected of them. Whether they will be called upon to act at all will depend first upon the important contingency of whether such a conference will be called, and the President wil decide that the United States shall be represented. The revision for the conference explicitly saves this matter to his discretion, but here is thought to be very little doubt that leaves this matter to his discretion, but there is thought to be very little doubt that if some European nation takes the initiative he will put into effect the law provided for the representation of the United States. It is also believed that Germany will issue the call and that the conference will be held during the coming summer or fail. Where it will be held will depend upon the time of the call, as will also the basis upon which the question of ratio or the extent to which silver shall be used is discussed. On this latter point it is understood that advocates of free coinage on the commission will demand that the ratio shall be fixed at 16 to 1, and that they will not swerve from this. As now appears they will constitute a majority of the commission from this country, as five of the six already chosen hold views favorable to the independent free coinage. The delegation will not be complete until the President shall select the other members of it whose appointment is left to him. If these three should all be opposed to free coinage under existing conditions in this country, as Mr. Hitt is, the commission would still stand five to four for free coinage. The law in the present case is not materially different from that under which the Brussels conference was appointment in 1892, except in the number of delegates and in providing the motions in their selection. The Brussels commission upon the part of the United States numbered five only and they were all apointed by the President. In 1892 an appropriation of $80,000 was made to pay the expenses of the commission, while $100,000 is now provided.

The personnel of the commission so far as formed is striking. The men selected have been in public life for many years, and all have distinguished themselves sufficiently to make a national reputation. Mr. Culberson entered the Forty-fourth Congress, Mr. Hitt the Forty-seventh and Mr. Crisp the Fiftieth, and all have served continuously since Mr. Crisp is serving his second term as Speaker, and previously to his elect Relations.

Mr. Hitt has also served as Assistant Secretary of State before entering the House, and was for several years Frst Secretary of the Legation and Charge de Affairs of the American Legation in

Secretary of the Legation and Charge de Affairs of the American Legation in Paris.

Senator Teller entered the Senate in 1877; Senator Jones 1887; Senator Daniel in 1887. Senator Teller has made a specialty of the study of financial and economic questions during his entire term, and is identified with the movement to secure the remonetization of silver at the old ratio of 16 to 1. While they have not so completely identified themselves with the movement, his Senatorial colleagues have both taken prominent part in it, so that it is known that three Senators stand upon the same footing with regard to silver. Senator Jones is a leading member of the Committee on Pinance, and was prominently identified with the tariff contest of the last session. Senator Daniel is a man of learning and is recognized as one of the leading lawyers and orators of the Senate. Representatives Crisp and Culberson are both silver advocates, but are conservative on that question. There is little doubt, however, that they will stand for all that can be had for silver in case the conference is held.

Mr. Hitt is classed as a bimetallist and is and all except Teller and Hitt served on the Confederate side during the rebellion. All are 50 years and over as regards age. Speaker Crisp is the youngest member, being 50; Senator Teller and Mr. Culber-son are each 64; Jones 55; Daniel 52, and Hitt 61.

DEPENDS UPON ENGLAND.

Other Nations Will Follow Her Lead on the Silver Question.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1895, by the Press Pub. Co.)
LONDON, March 6.—Henry Chaplin, the President of the Board of Agriculture in Lord Salisbury's last Cabinet, and more than likely to be in the next Conservative Ministry, was asked by the World and Post-Dispatch correspondent to-day if the En-glish bimetallists think their cause has been advanced by the action of Parliament.

"The fact that Mr. Everett's motion was carried unanimously," he answered, "while a motion to the same effect was defeated carried unanimously," he answered, "while a motion to the same effect was defeated by a majority of eighty last year, denotes a marked advance in public opinion; and it is upon public opinion in England that the solution of the problem will depend. The recent action of the German and British Governments amounts to an emphatic recognition of the grave evils which arise from the present relations of the two metals. Moreover, the House of Commons has expressed its serious apprehensions at the growing character of these evils.

"In view of these considerations there can hardly be a doubt that the possibility of the solution of the currency problem has been advanced by the recent action of the German and British Parliaments."

"In the event of Germany issuing invitations to a conference is it likely, I inquired. "that the British representatives would be given a free hand?"

"The memorandum for the guidance of our delegates at Brussels," replied Mr. Chaplin, "contained the following instructions: The invitation to the conference contemplates the study of measures for the extanded use of silver which may be prepared under it. The English delegate in the first instance by any prohibition to enter on such a field of inquiry as members of the conference will be in any way curtailed in these respects."

"But, I asked, "would the return of your party to power be likely to produce any than the proment of the British delegates in the first instance by any prohibition to enter on such a field of inquiry as members of the conference way desire to cover. Now, it appears extremely unlikely that the instructions to the delegates to any future conference will be in any way curtailed in these respects."

"But, I asked, "would the return of your party to power be likely to produce any change in the policy of the Government toward bimetaligm."

"Currency referre never has been and has not yet become a party question," was Mr. Chaplin's response.

"Among the supporters of our movement there are probably as many Liberals as Unionists.

regenent on a bimetalic basis; I inilred.
"It depends, I believe," Mr. Chaplin said, on the attitude of England. There is a ide and well-founded impression that if agiand was prepared to join in an arrangeent for the free coinage of silver there found be very little nesitation on the part of other nations, but public opinion in Enland, especially in this city, is not sufficiently advanced to warrant such a preposal y the English Government at present, it steadily progressing, however, and its osition may materially after at no distant ate. If other countries should be willing to reopen their mints to the free coinage of silver on the understanding that Great ritain would agree to reopen the Indian ints, the opposition in this country to that cove, which is very powerful now, could, I elleve, be speedily overcome."

THEY FIX THE PRICE.

THEIR RECORD IN PUBLIC LIFE Five London Firms Who Control the Silver Bullion Market.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1805, by the Press Pub. Co.)
LONDON, March 6.—The bulk of the silver bullion business done in London passes through five brokerage firms. These are the houses of Samuel Montague & Co., Sharpe & Wilkins, Mocatta & Goldsmid, Pictor & Abell and H. A. Marte. Pixley & Abell and H. A. Hertz.

The second, third and fourth named firms absolutely and arbitrarily fix the daily firms could doubtiess be members of the combination, but for reasons of their own prefer not to be bound by its rules. They accede ordinarily, however, to the price as fixed. Representatives of these five firms meet every day in the office of Sharpe & Wilkins and at 2 p. m. give out the price for the day to the waiting crowd. This is telegraphed at once to the exchanges of the world. The price is really fixed by foreign banks which purchase silver and with which the brokers have previously been in consultation. firms could doubtless be members of the

which the brokers have previously been in consultation.

Except for the abortive attempt by American producers a few years ago, no serious effort seems ever to have been made to resist this arbitrary rate. London purchases about two-thirds of the entire silver product of the world and of the remaining third America consumes the larger part. These five firms thus represent purchases of practically two-thirds of the product. Until a few years ago the first four named firms did practically all the business but the London Clearing House, through which the Rothschilds and other large firms operate, added silver to its transactions and is now a very large purchaser. Last year its transactions were 25,000,000 ounces. Its representative is H. A. Hertz.

Inquiries made in several most influential chaser. Last year its transactions were 25,000,000 ounces. Its representative is H. A. Hertz.

Inquiries made in several most influential quarters by the Post-Dispatch representative would seem to indicate that while the arbitrary action of these firms is much resented by producers, the remedy is really in the 'hands of the mining companies. If they should combine against the present solid combination of chief buyers. It is stated by the brokers themselves that their only clients are those companies, and that the American producers do not employ them and that therefore their sole interest is to fix the lowest price possible. The buyers are united, while the sellers are supine and divided.

Only Chill and the South American States send their silver product directly to London for sale by brokers in behalf of the producers and are therefore anxious to get the best price possible for their clients. Producers in the United States on the contrary keep their product at home until sold at the price fixed in London with no effort apparently or concerted action to make it to the interest of the brokers here to get higher prices. It is the opinion of at least one of the firms above named that the price of silver would be materially enhanced, but of course only after a severe struggle, if American producers should, acting in concert, ship their silver here in advance of sale, as do South American States, and make it to the interest of the London brokers to get the highest instead of, as now, the lowest prices.

WASHINGTON. D. C., March 6:-The American Bimetallic League has issued a statement, outlining the plan for the forma-Sematorial colleagues have both taken prominent part in it, so that it is known that three Senators stand upon the same footing with regard to sliver.

Senator Jones is a leading member of the Committee on Finance, and was prominently identified with the tariff contest of the last session. Senator Daniel is a man of learning and is recognized as one of the leading lawyers and orators of the Senate. Representatives Crisp and Culberson are both silver advocates, but are conservative on that question. There is little doubt, however, that they will stand for all that can be had for silver in case the conference is held.

Mr. Hitt is classed as a bimetallist and is understood to believe thoroughly in the rebabilitation of silver, provided it can be obtained by an international agreement.

All the members are lawyers except Hitt, and all except Teller and Hitt served on the Confederate side during the rebellion.

Cleveland, It is Said, Will Not Send Goldburgs to the Conference.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.

It had been assumed that President Cleveland would choose gold advocates to the proposed monetary conference, but this is now said to be an error. He will name bimetallists. Mr. Hatch of Missouri is authority for this statement. In conversation with a Senator, a silver man and anti-Cleveland man it developed that Mr. Cleveland sees his opportunity and is to take advantage of it by appointing as his three delegates, bimetallists.

"The Senator," said Mr. Hatch, "went so far as to name one of the delegates Mr. Cleveland has in mind. He is Gen. Frances A. Walker, President of the New England Bimetallic League. The others are equally as strong friends of the double standard.

"If the Senator's information is correct, the President will be a five manner, for if this commission reaches practical results, and this silver question is solved by it, the President will be a great thing for Mr. Cleveland and the Democratic party if he succeeds."

It may be that Administration influence

Cleveland and the Democratic party if he succeeds."

It may be that Administration influence had something to do with the sudden change of plan whereby Mr. Bland and the other uncompromising 16 to 1 men were shut out of the delegation and the selection of delegates was turned over to the Speaker, and limited to the Fifty-fourth Congress. Sure it is that if the President had such a scheme in mind as outlined in Col. Hatch's talk, he could not have selected better delegates for co-operation with his own than those the House has furnished in the persons of Mr. Crisp and Mr. Culberson. If the President names three such bimetallists as Gen. Francis A. Walker, he will, with the assistance of Mr. Crisp and Mr. Culberson, control the delegation.

INMAN FAVORS SILVER.

A Month in Maxico Opens His Eyes on Special to The Post-Dispatch.
ATLANTA, Ca., March 6.—The Constitu tion of to-day has an interesting interview with the weakhy capitalist, S. M. Inman, who has heretofore been a strong opponent of silver coinage. Mr. Inman has just returned from Mexico, where he spent a month. He says:

"If find that Mexico has prospered during the last two years, when business conditions in our country have been clogged where they have not been actually going backward. Cotton in Mexico is selling at 16% cents a pound in silver, which is equal to 3% cents in our money. I paid $7.50 in silver for a suite of rooms which in this country would have cost $10 in gold. A suit of clothes, a pair of gloves, a hat, or any item of domestic necessity sells in Mexico for approximately the same amount in silver that we are required to pay here in gold; in other words, at about half the price. This establishes very clearly to my mind the absurdity of the argument about silver being a depreciating currency. A silver dollar in Mexico will do what is done by a gold dollar in this country, and it has been the appreciation of gold and not the depreciation of silver which has brought about the disparity.

"The people are contented and prosperous and have not suffered from the general depression during the last few years. The truth of the matter is that the silver currency of Mexico has acted as a splendid protection measure against outside depression, and as it has resulted in México, so it would be in this country if we would imitate the example of Mexico in this respect and throw ourselves upon our own resources." with the weakhy capitalist, S. M. Inman

A Boy Claims Officer Dowling Unneces sarily Assaulted Him.

Joseph Zinger, 18 years old, an employe of the St. Louis Car Co., residing at 211 Howard street, applied for a warrant this mornard street, applied for a warrant this morning against Police Officer Thomas Dowling of the Fourth District, charging him with assault with intent to do great bodily harm. Zinger stated that on the evening of Feb. 17 he was standing on the corner of Twenty-second and Howard streets laughing and talking with two girls. Dowling, he says, came along and ordered him to keep quiet and move on. Not moving as fast as the officer desired, Zinger states that Dowling struck him in the face with his fist and then punched him in the stomach with his club. The latter blow he claims, resulted in his becoming ruptured, and that in consequence he is now obliged to wear a truss. Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Johnson refused the warrant and instructed Zinger to lay the case before the Police Commissioners.

for the murder of his wife. It spes back beyond that crime, which was committed February 20, of last year. Two days after the finding of the frozen body of Mrs. Kensmann the police learned that Kensmann was leading a dual life, and night and day detectives shadowed him. His every move was known. Slowly the skein of his life during the past eight years was unravelled. Kensmann said he came to America in 1886 from Flewsburg, in the Province of Schleswig-Holstein, going direct to Chicago. When he ianded on American shores he was accompanied by a young woman who has since been known under three names—Thresa Holisch. Theodora Hofmann and Pauline White. This woman came to America ostensibly to marry Kensmann's son, who, it has been claimed, was drowned in Lake Michigan.

This was the story told by Kensmann when he was asked about the woman who had come across with him. He declared she had returned to Germany on his son's death and that he had since heard nothing from her. But the police proved that his mistress was this same woman. Theresa Holisch, when arrested, told several stories. She claimed her Christian name was Theodora and that she came to America two years ago it is now, from Flemsburg, which was Kensmann's native town, and went to Denver. She was an abandoned woman, and in Ella Wellington's house at 1942 Market street she met Kensmann during the summer of 1893. From Denver she went to Omsha and remained at 912 Douglas street until Oct. 1, and was often visited by Kensmann, who was running a small tallor shop. She left Omaha Oct. 5 and returned to Denver, but a few days later came to Kansas City, staying first at a lodging house on West Ninth street. When Kensmann same here he rented a room and lived with her for a time at 1617 Main street, where Theresa was living at the time of the murder.

When Kensmann was in Chicago he lived at 274 North Wells street and later at 560 North Wells street, and was known as Professor Adams, medium and dealer in lottery tickets. These facts were given Chief Speers by Inspec

Mr. Vanderbilt's defense was a mere formality.

No arrangement as concerns alimony or other financial matters was passed upon by Justice Barrett or by Edmund Kelly, the referee, on whose findings the decree was granted. The entire matter was a personal arrangement arrived at by Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt through their lawyer. It was decided to keep everything very secret. Justice Barrett and Referee Kelly were silent. Everything could have been signed and the divorce granted more than a month ago but for the fact that W.K.Vanderbilt had sailed for Europe without signing the important papers relating to financial details. HIS LIFE IN KANSAS CITY. deroit had saled for Burgers relating to financial details.

These details were the subject of long and careful discussion and arrangement on the part of Messrs. Choate, Duer and Jay, who represented Mrs. Vanderbilit's interests, and Mr. Vanderbilit's lawyers, Anderson, Howland & Murray and Chauncey M. Depew.

The financial arrangements provide not alone for Mrs. Vanderbilit's income, but more especially they stipulate certain provisions for her three children. It is not proposed to make public any details concerning the agreement which preceded the signing of the decree.

The papers drawn by Mr. Choate were delayed in their execution by the Russell Sage trial. They were at last ready, and then it became necessary to send them abroad for Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt's signature. A trusty messenger was sent on a fast treats by Mr. Choate which here were Mr. Presery H.

Kensmann came to Kansas City first October 4, a few days before Theresa Hollsch came here from Denver. Soon thereafter he opened an office in the Schutte Building under the alias of "Prof. D. Hansen, clairvoyant, possessed of power to reveal the future and tell the past." He also set himself forth in clirculars as a spirit medium, a healer of all diseases and a general fakir. In November he went to Omaha and with his wife engaged rooms with Mrs. Annie Johnson, who conducted a boarding-house at 1822 Cass avenue. Soon after they went there Kensmann left for Lincoln, so he alleged, to buy a tailor shop. That night a smell of gas was noticed, the door of Mrs. Kensmann's room was broken open and Mrs. Kensmann's room was broken open and mrs. Kensmann found unconscious and nearly dead. Both gas burners in the room were turned half on. Doctors were called and the woman revived. Mrs. Kensmann returned at 10 o'clock the next day.

When Kensmann was first here he haunted the offices of the New York Mutual Fund Insurance Co. to get receipts for money he had previously paid in Denver on the policies of $3,000 and $1,000 on his wife's life. By a clerical error the smaller policy lapsed and the matter was not adjusted until a few days before Mrs. Kensmann was murdered. And the crime was committed six weeks after they came from Omaha.

There were many peculiar circumstances developed at the trial. When Mrs. Kensmann was found dead two handkercfilefs were by her side, one bearing the initials "J. K.," which stood probably for Johanna Kensmann, Johanna being her Christian name, the other the initials "T. H.," which corresponds with Theresa Hollsch. This handkerwoman's room. trial. They were at last ready, and then it became necessary to send them abroad for Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt's signature. A trusty messenger was sent on a fast steamed by Mr. Chauncey M. Depew. He went to Nice, secured the signature, with the attestation of the United States Consul, and returned to New York last week. The papers accordingly were all put in the hands of Judge Barrett on Monday. They were held by him over night for examination, and yesterday the decree was formally signed. It was stated that Mrs. Vanderbilt is to receive more than $200,000 a year income. The arrangement also gives her the white marble palace on the northwest corner of Fifty- second and the country place at Isilp. Mrs. Vanderbilt, however, will refuse to live in either of these houses, rendered disagreeable by unpleasant memories. She will move from the Fifth avenue house at once, and will notify the lawyers that the two houses are to go back to W. K. Vanderbilt, lately her husband. She will occupy another house in New York this winter. In summer she will continue to occupy the marble palace at Newport, which belongs to her. It was deeded to her before the beginning of the present trouble. It is probable that she will sail for London in a few days. Her friends declare that the repeated postponements of her departure which have actually occured have been due to ber determination to stay here until the divorce should be publicly announced; and to run away from the publicity which reflected only on her husband, who is pronunced guilty.

In mitigation of the conduct of W. K. Erwin, to say the final words in the defendant's behalf before the Judge sent them out to arrive at a verdict. The scene was a most impressive one. The sick juror had been made as comfortable as curious throns.

Just before proceedings began the palsied father of the defendant came in with his wife leaning heavily upon him. They found seats among the throng, the defense fearing to have them too near the attorneys table. Then in came Harry Hayward, with his keepers, manacled but debonnair, fresh and seemingly confident of acquittal. Duel Threatened Between Max O'Rell and Mark Twain.

THE FRENCH WIT OFFENDED.

Says Twain Insulted French Women in His Criticism of Bourget's "Outre Mer."

NEW YORK, March 6.—A duel between Paul Blouet (Max O'Rell), Paris, France, European humorist, and Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain) is not an impossibility. O'Rell is very angry over the article of Twain criticising "Outre Mer." by Paul Bourget. Max O'Rell was at the Everett House today. "Mark Twain has offered a gratuitous insult," he said, "to the women of the French nation. It is no excuse for him that Outre Me r' is pretentious, ridiculous and foolish. That M. Bourget attempted an analytical criticism of American men and women in all seriousness after only a sixmonths visit here, was simply a bit of humor. Now, this is what I take particular exception to: "See how Twain answers this: 'I reckon a Frenchman's got his little stand-by for a duil time, too, because when all other interests fail, he can turn in and see if he can't find out who his father was."

"Now, I call that answer an unwarranted, gratuiteus, vile insuit."

LIMITS FOR ITS EXISTENCE.

Rev. Dr. Boyd Reviews Reasons for the Introduction of a Bill in the Legislature Governing Living Lines.

A bill is soon to be introduced in the Legis-lature providing that all houses of ill-repute be restricted to a certain district to be des-ignated by the police. The bill will be in the form of an amendment to the present law forbidding their existence within 100 yards of a church or school-house. The amend-

"Insert in section 3,812, Revised Statutes, the following: 'Nor outside of specified boundaries to be designated by the police authorities of the city, where such authorities exist, and where they do not exist, by the common council."

The bill was drawn by iCty Counselor Marshal at the suggestion of a committee of the Evangelical Alliance, of which Rev. Dr. W. W. Boyd, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, is the chairman.

This action has grown out of the orders given keepers of disreputable houses by the police to vacate the district they have occupied for a number of years, and the consequent invasion of the residence portions of the city by these undesirable neighbors. The police have experienced considerable trouble with this class since the order was issued, and the clergy have been issuessing the problem for some time, with the result noted.

The committee was appointed at the January meeting of the Evangelical Alliance at discussing the problem for some time, with the result noted.

The committee was appointed at the January meeting of the Evangelical Alliance, at the suggestion of Dr. Boyd, and consisted of the pastor of the Second Baptist Church, Chairman; Rev. Dr. J. H. George of the First Congregational Church, Rev. Dr. J. W. Lee of St. John's M. E. Church, Rev. Dr. S. J. Niccolis of the Second Presbyterian Church, and Rev. Dr. M. Rhodes of St. Mark's Lutheran Church.

REV. DR. BOYD'S OPINION.

Dr. Boyd, in explaining his object in proposing the appointment of the committee, said: "I introduced the resolution on account of the alarming spread of the houses of ill-repute in the residence parts of the city, caused by their moving from their former quarters by order of the police. In talking with the police officials I found them helpiess to change the situation. All they could do would be to keep the objectionable people moving when complained of by citzens.

"It seemed to me that the subject should in the could be complained of by citzens.

The evil must be recognized as existing, and then we must deal with it the best we know how."

THE ADVANTAGES GAINED.

"The advantages would be that all such houses would be quarantined within certain limits under special police supervision. This would prevent their being scattered throughout the city and would break up street walking and solicitation.

"Again, such regulations would afford an opportunity to the philanthropic citizens of St. Louis to erect in the heart of the district an institution which would provide a door of escape for women desiring to lead a better life and would prevent young girls from entering this territory and a life of shame. It would further secure homes and occupation outside of the city for any who might wish to reform.

"It seemed best, therefore, to the committee to frame the bill on the above lines and to present it to the Legislature, and this has been done. The bill will doubtless be presented at once, and we hope that the public will unite in urging immediate action, for we beleve that the restriction of the social evil within definite limits is the first step toward the solution of the question of dealing with it. In this judgment we are confirmed by the opinion of Mayor Walbridge and other city officials, including Chief of Police Harrigan, who says that the passage of this amendment is an imperative need and would greatly help to solve the social evil problem.

"As matters now stand the philanthropic people cannot realize the extent of the evil and find it hard to deal with. If we should get it within control then our next steps could be to erect the institution in its midst and govern our future actions by what we could discover concerning it. Of course it would have to be entirely non-sectarian in government."

Made Her Pay Costs.

Mrs. Clara Papin, who failed to appear in the Court of Criminal Correction last Monday to prosecute Mrs. Lissie Meyer, against whom she had sworn out a warrant for assault, was brought into court on an attachment issued by Judge Murphy. She declined to prosecute Mrs. Meyer, however, and the prisoner was discharged. Judge Murphy then ordered Mrs. Papin to pay the costs of the attachment and censured her for the course she adopted after having sworn out the warrant after which he Instructed the Prosecuting Attorney to Issue no more warrants to her on charges of that nature.

"There are some days I can get along on three prayers better than I can others on seven. If any engineer is pulling a light train he don't want to take on coal and water more than once in seventy-drye miles, but if he has a heavy train, it must be oftener. It's just that way with prayer; it depends upon what you're pulling.

If an engineer should run his train as you do your religion, he would be sent up to the pay office the first night.

The Lord has made special provision for idiots and children. He will look after them. They don't have to pray. Do you belong to that class?

The cry of the material world is to get out and hustle, and, really, it's got so a preacher must hustle, and if he hustles they cuss him and 16 he don't they bury him. I rather be cussed than buried.

Last night going to Music Hall I saw a front door of a pool-room open and theater crowds going to the piay, and I said to George I'm so glad I can get a hearing in this city with so many influences drawing against us.

I'm somewhat like the fellow that had both legs cut off and some one went to offer him sympathy. They said, "I'm very sorry for you," well," he replied, "I'm not kicking."

There are too many modest, thin-skined Christians in this world who are afraid somebody is going to say something about them.

You never see God steaming up an engine that's not going anywhere. If you are going anywhere or going to do anything and will get on your knees and pray, you will get all the warming up you want.

I'm so giad I know who my enemies are. There is not a saloon-keeper or gambler or race horse man in St. Louis who will cooperate with me, and don't anywhere I go.

The man who can pray what he means and means what he prays belongs to the fribe of "I don't care," and the leader of that tribe was crucified on Calvary, between the thieves.

A preacher is a fool to try to get up and move his audience by something that don't move him.

He told a pathetic story of his daughter, who was ill with death. Said he, "I was called home by a telegram and found my daughter on what was apparently her death bed. Three of the most noted physicians of that region were there and when they saw her they turned hopelessly away. I wired to Bro. L. T. Brown of Meridian, Miss., who is always in close communication with God, 'My daughter has passed out beyond the reach of materia medica, talk with God about it."

The reply came from Brother Brown. "I have shut myself out from the world and will talk with God until the answer comes."

That was Thursday. The day passed and she sank lower and lower, Friday passed and shill she hovered on the verge of death. Saturday her pulse was only 30% and the doctor said she would die when it reached 55 and there was no hope. Still I heard nothing from Brown. At 5 o'clock in the evening she grew a little better and in a short time a telegram came from Brown. "At 5 o'clock God told me your daughter would live." And she did live. flutter of excitement. This wedding is to wealth and culture among our dusky fellow-citizens will be there in all their glory, for no man stands higher among his people

Dorsey is really very well-to-do. He owns considerable property, among other houses the one in which the wedding is to take place. For twelve years he has been janiplace. For twelve years he has been janttor at the Cotton Exchange. He earned unusual commendation from his colored brethren when he made the fight against immorality in the colored public schools.

would be entirely improper, according to etiquette of a ciety. Mrs. Dorsey, applaining this last of flourish, which are detracts more or less from the election of the control of the character, stated her daughter had been married beand that therefore the maids of honor and that therefore the maids of honor control of the control of th gance of an affair of this character, stated that her daughter had been married before, and that therefore the mais of honor were dispensed with.

The bride's costume is a gorgeous creation of some Carondelet modiste. The material is pearl crep trimmed with chintilla hace—a perfect dream for any bride, white or colored. It is cut high in the neck, with large puffed sleeves. Canary-colored gloves and slippers complete the outift. Mr. Magee will, no doubt, be the envy of every man present when they cast their eyes on Miss Dorsey's bewitching figure.

Speculation has been rife among the friends of the couple as to where they will go on their wedding Journey, and many plans have been evolved for them. However, so great has been the secrecy maintained by the young people no one has the slightest news, not even the immediate family. There is talk of them going abroad, but how true this is of course time only can tell.

UNWILLING TO EXTEND IT.

Circuit Attorney's Plea for Funds Fight Duestrow Unavailing.

Circuit Attorney Zachritz is greatly disapppointed at the result of a recent effort on his part to provide sufficient funds with which to engage experts to testify in behalf of the prosecution in the coming trial of double-murderer Arthur Duestrow. Realizing that the prosecution is greatly handicapped because of the almost bottomiess purse in the hands of the defense, by the aid of which numerous experts have been employed to testify. Mr. Zachritz has, during the past month, sent out over 1,000 circulars to certain men, whom he considers the wealthlest citizens in the city, requesting financial aid from them to be used in the prosecution of the case. In answer to these requests Mr. Zachritz says that he has received just $56 and that this sum did not come from wealthy citizens, but from certain fijends of his who from personal motives alone did what they could to assisst him.

In speaking on the subject Mr. Zachritz said:

"I have no legal right to expect any citizen to contribute one cent toward the prosecution of this case. At the time the crime was committed and ever since then the case has created a great deal of interest and also great indignation throughout the community. On this occasion I was led to believe that there were numerous wealthy citizens in the city who, when they learned of the disadvantage, in a pecuniary way, under which I was laboring, would cheerfully render me assisstance toward securing the prisoner's conviction. It seems, however, that I was mistaken.

"There should be a fund provided by law for such cases, but as there is none I will have to go ahead and conduct the prosecution as best I can."

Approaching Completion.

The article published in Tussday's Post-Dispatch relating to the cut in river freight-rates to points South, has attracted much attention. Wholesale merchants are "entusiate over the matter and indications point to the prospect that the Interstate Transportation Co., the new barge line which has brought about the change, will have all the business that it can do. The rates are said to be the lowest enjoyed by St. Louis in years and are such that freight can be shipped, not only to river points, but to inland towns within a certain distance from the river, the freight being taken by Friday, ready for submission on that day to the Board of Public Improvements. As soon as this is done the surveyors will be put at work and the outline of the lake surveyed. Then everything will be in readiness for the men in whose interest the work is, primarily, projected.

Legislation and Electrical Construction Under Consideration.

The semi-annual meeting of the Western Union of Insurance Companies convened in the parlors of the Southern at 10 o'clock. Harding in the chair, assisted by Vice President Henry C. representing the insurance interests of the Middle and Western States. The meeting at 10 o'clock was executive, but questions affecting legislation, electrical construction, etc., received consideration. The meeting gave particular attention to the laws of Missouri affecting the transaction of insurance business in the State, it being claimed that in some instances they are too harsh and in others too lax, the latter applying particularly to the Missouri laws on incendarism, which do not impose sufficient penalty on offenders, this, it was claimed, forcing companies to charge heavy premiums on country dwellings.

The Western Union was formed about sixteen years ago and is an association of managers and general agents, so say the officers, for the purpose of making rules and regulations for the government of local agents and for the general regulation of the insurance business. Its territory comprises the Missiaspip valley, as far east as the Pennsylvania line, as far west as Denver and as far south as the Southern Tennessee line. It is affiliated, to a certain extent, with the Eastern Tariff Association, the Southeastern Association and the Pacific Coast Union, all similar bodies, having similar purposes in view.

It is positively stated by officers of the Western Union that that body had absolutely nothing to do with the regulation or fixing of rates, that work being left in the hands of the State associations, of which there is one for every State in the Union. The State associations do not, however, interfere with rates in the large cities, that being the province of the local associations similar to the St. Louis Board of Fire Underwriters.

Local insurance men say that if the Moran anti-combine bill, now before the State Legislature, becomes a law, it will work an injury to the insurance interests and to the insurance men say that if the province of the local associations will be prohibited. The town of Warrensburg, Mo., is eited as an instance of the injury to the insurance men being built and when the su

From Bush's account his incarceration is an injustice. Deputy Coroner Buil claims that he ran away Monday last when the inquest was originally set, but this does not appear to be the case. The inquest was set for 10 o'clock in the morning and Bush got there before any of the other witnesses, thinking the inquest was set earlier. When he got there no other witnesses in the case were present and Bush volunteered to go out to the neighborhood where they live and bring them down. After he had been gone a short time the other witnesses appeared on the scene and before Bush returned the inquest was continued until additional witnesses could be gotten, until Wednesday at 10 a.m., and the witnesses went home. Bush returned about 11 o'clock and, he claims, without any explanation whatever he was hustled off to the calaboose, a prisoner, though he did nothing save to offer accomodation to the Coroner.

Deputy Bull, when seen in regard to the matter, said that he had locked Bush up because he wanted to keep him from mixing up with and ooaching other witnesses to the shooting, but he also admitted that he locked

THE BRIGHTENING BUSINESS OUTLOOK. The spring season of the wholesale merchants is at its height and there is good reason to anticipate an advance over the exceptional record of the St. Louis jobbers last fall. The city is full of buyers and the clerks of the wholesals establishments are working under high pressure to fill orders.

The activity of the jobbing trade is the forerunner of activity in all lines of of the Fall River mills indicate that the prosperity. The debtor class has business. The recently published reports manufacturers are feeling the effect of sunk into impoverishment, the struggle manufacturers are feeling the effect of for existence becoming ever harder, while reviving trade. The books of the mills show substantial gains in output and in profits. The returns of the railroads show a marked increase of traffic, and this is a certain index of renewed prosperity in all branches of industry and

The conditions are favorable for a re vival of business activity. Congress has adjourned and business is relieved from fear of disturbance from that quarter.

The revenues of the Government are steadily increasing and will soon be sufficient to meet all the demands on the Treasury. The deficiency last month was less than one-half the average deficiency of the first seven months of the fiscal year. When the Government is able to meet expenditures without encroaching upon the reserve public confidence will be restored and financial scares will be things of the past. The enforced economy of the last two years has brought supplies of all kinds to the lowest point and renewal is a necessity.

St. Louis is in a position of special advantage. Her business foundation is sound, and not only the city, but her entire commercial territory, has been singularly free from the worst effects of the business depression. St. Louisans may look forward to a year of prosperous activity.

A bulwark of monopoly in this strug-gle is the dcubt of the city's power to compel the wire companies to put their wires underground. BIMETALLISM'S BRIGHT PROSPRCTS.

The indications are that the worldwide raid of the gold monometallists against silver has been fought to a stand-

This preconcerted raid began when the Franco-German war of 1870 ended in a victory for Germany. Bleichroder and other German bankers made Bismarck believe that by demonetizing silver he could strike a deadlier blow at France, the chief silver-using country of the world, than was inflicted even by the fine of three milliards. In no way can the prosperity of a country be so effectually crippled as by disorganizing its cur rency. It was confidently believed by the capitalist conspiracy that to avoid currency chaos France would be driven o abandon silver. The scheme was practically successful. Germany adopted the single gold standard and France was compelled to close her mints to the free coinage of silver Italy, Beigium and Switzerland joined France in the suspension of silver coinage. Thus a large part of Europe was committed to the use of gold only as the basis of a credit currency controlled by

Then the scene of operations was transferred to this country. In 1873 the act demonetizing silver was passed, if not surreptitiously, at least without attracting the attention of the people. On both continents the leading commercial nations were committed, without compre hending it, to gold monometallism. The consequences soon began to make themselves felt. Gold rapidly appreciated in value as the demand for it increased. Every other commodity, including silver, wheat, corn, flour, cotton iron, manufactured goods, farming lands, as rapidly declined in relative value As money became scarce and costlier every debt to be paid in money became more burdensome and more difficult to pay. If in 1873 Congress had passed a law declaring that every man who owed $1,000 should pay $2,000 it would not have inflicted a greater hardship on the debter class in this country—on the West, for example—than it did when it demonstized

There was a time when success seemed assured-when it poked as if the country would yield or be throttled-and the Wall street organs, like the New York Evening Post, could not restrain their paeans of jubilation.

The conspiracy was thwarted, however, and within the last three weeks the sit nation has brightened to a degree that puld hardly have seemed possible three onths ago. The people everywhere are orcing a knowledge of their distress on their political leaders and repre sentatives. Germany has taken the first step for calling an international confer-ence, the avowed purpose of which is to rehabilitate silver. France has signified through M. The popular sentiment on the question of establishing a State reformatory for beginners in crime is indicated by the fact that a petition to the Legislature in favor of the Pettijohn bill has been signed by a large number of prominent citizens, members of the Merchants' Exchange and Mercantile Club of this city. It is safe to assert that in a poll of the State no votes except those of contractors who have a selfish interest in defeating the proposition would be cast against the bill. Shall the Legislature consent to make hardened criminals of first offenders for the benefit of a few ontractors?

The fact that the report of the retrenchment committee was made within a month of the April elections and that the reform bills based upon it are introduced in the Council within so short a time of adjournment is calculated to arouse suspicion as to the motives of the Republican majority on the committee and in the Council. Brighter and Stronger Than Ever.

From the Hermann (Mo.) Ledger. The return of Col. Chas. H. Jones to Western journalism is an event of much more than casual importance and will mark an epoch in the history of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. His return will be halled with satisfaction by the friends of honest jour-nalism and the admirers of independent thought within party lines. While the Post-Dispatch has always been the constant, consistent, unrelenting foe of shams and hypocrisy, and an advocate of real Democratic principles, it is not saying too much to predict that it will be made better and brighter and stronger than ever.

PORT SAID, Egypt, March 6,-The Red Star Line steamship Friesland, - Capt. Nickels, chartered to take a large party of Nickels, chartered to take a large party of American excursionists to the Mediterranean, and which left New York on Feb. 5, is ashore in a bad position at this point. The Friesland grounded while leaving Port Said and is now hard and, fast at a spot inside the breakwater. The cause of the accident was that her steering gear became disabled. The steamer's cargo is being unloaded as rapidly as possible in order to lighten her. She is being assisted by tugs and her passengers are in no danger.

BY INTERMARRIAGE Rev. Dr. Hickman Would Have the Negro Problem Solved. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 6.-The Terre Haute Literary Club has been startled by a paper from Rev. Dr. Hickman, pastor of the First Methodist Church, which preof the First Methodist Church, which presented a long array of arguments in favor of solving the negro problem in the South by amalgamation of the two races, the abrogation of laws prohibiting miscenegation and the intermarriage of the two races.

Dr. Hickman said that he presented the argument for what it was worth. Born a Virginian and himself a slaveholder at the breaking out of the war, the idea was naturally repulsive to him, but he expressed the conviction that despite our prejudices the problem is destined to be solved in just this way, and he contended that mixed races have in the past produced the strongest people. He laid down as a fundamental principle this:

A mixed race in competition with a pure race, other conditions being equal, will be the intellectual and physical superiors. There is no natural repulsion between the races. White and colored children play together with perfect freedom.

The repulsion, he thinks, comes later by education and surroundings. It is due, he contends, largely to the former condition of servitude of the negro and, he thinks, is not found in Europe. The black man has many traits which in amalgamation improve the white man.

I was after reading of the nuptials of Miss Gould and Mr. Castillain and my bosom heaves with indignation that the likes of the French spalpeen should come over the pond and take the gold and the Gould. And its indignant I am that multitudes of Irish-American boys should be beat by the parie, vous francais. Sure my boy Mike and Biddy Culinane will have their nuptials on the 10th of March and a handsomer couple never jumped over the broomstick. A broth of a boy is Mike, handy with a shillalah and black-thorn cudgel, and its a hurrah, Mr. Castellaine, they will be having. What with plano forte and bappipe and fuzguzzy music, and the orange blossoms and peach blossoms and the orange blossoms and the ice cream and the limberger, the like was never foretold. Sure, King Solomon, with his 300 wives, never saw the likes of this. Sure its a chivaree they should be having, and beating with wash boilers and tin pans and tin cans, and its meself would chase them out of America with the serenade. If I was a stateman, I would pass a statute to forbid the likes of them marriages.

The Proposed Bachelor Tax.

Editor of the Post-Dispatch To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The proposed Julian law taxing bachelors I think questionable. I am somewhat of a Malthusian. The world is filling up fast enough, in my opinion, as it is. The demand is for quality, not quantity: better men and better women. At present rate of increase, in absence of war and pestilence, muscle is bound in time to become cheaper than machinery, as in China, and it cents to 5 cents per day good wages. Meat will then be a luxury and cornmeal, rice, beans and other cheap articles of food will have to suffice. I believe many now married should be single and many single married. should be single and many single married. The family that can raise one child to be an ornament to society, a benefit to its kind and a comfort and pleasure to itself is doing better than the one which raises ten or a dozen, one-half of whom may become either tramps or criminals or a burden to themselves and society. Young, inexperienced, improprat persond frequently marry.

doson, one-half of whom may become either tramps or criminals or a burden to themselves and society. Young, inexperienced, ignorant persons frequently marry and take the chances, raise large families and depend on Providence and charity to get through somehow.

Now, if paternalism is to govern and such an act as the one proposed become law, there should be some badge worn by bachelors to distinguish them from the common herd, so that unmarried women could give them that consideration and encouragement many of them require, as they usually are too modest and too diffident to propose, and idealize women too much, possibly, as a rule. However, I don't imagina there is much danger of such legislation in this year of our Lord, but if our solons want to immortalize themselves and really benefit posterity, let them do something in the way of repression and in the direction outlined above.

true then all laborers will lose by the free coinage of silver, for the chief thing expected from it is a great increase of prices in food, clothing, furniture and everything else which the laborer has to buy.

Unless wages rise faster than the prices of goods, the wage-earner will not be any better off, and if wages do not rise as quickly or as much as the prices of goods, it is obvious that wage-earners will be worse off. Under an inflation of the currency the prices of goods invariably rise months before wages rise at all, and as the wage-earners have no goods to sell, they pay high prices for everything they buy, while they receive low prices for the only thing they have to sell—their labor.

Mercy for the Patient Horse.

To the Editor of the Pest-Dispatch.

Is there not a statute forbidding the cruent practice of overleading wagons by the various transfer and drayage companies engaged in hauling merchandise to and from the various railroad depots of East St. Louis and St. Louis? Yesterday the writer saw a wagon loaded several feet high with sacks of grain—it looked like nearly a car load—with two horses drawing the same. The load was so heavy they could scarcely get started, though on even and level ground. One of the horses fell to his fore knees while straining so hard to move the wagon. The load was entirely too much for two horses, as the wagon was a very large one and the sacks piled very high on it. It is a common occurrence to see overloaded wagons and suffering horses. Why do not the proper officers watch these things and punish the person responsible to the full limit of the law? For the sake of the poor beasts please agitate this question, for it is a diagrace to humanity to allow it to go on. Our officials must watch for such abuses and stop them.

WE MAY SE ARBITRATOR

Mr. Greeham's Instructions about the Venesuela-British-Guians Troubles.

WASHINGTON, March & Secretary Greeham is about to instruct Ambassader Bayard to urge Great British to an adjustment of the long pending trouble between Venesuela and British Guiana, and to suggest arbitration of the question. This action is in pursuance of a recent resolution of Congress. The result of Mr. Bayard's appeal is watched with much interest, owing to the reports from Venesuela that the trouble has reached a critical stage, and that both sides are massing troops in the disputed territory lying between them. Mr. Bayard is well equipped for this negotiation, as he was Secretary of State in 18% when the United States first made an offer to Great Britain to act as arbitrator. The offer was courteously declined. At the same time Venesuela broke off all diplomatic relations with Great Britain, and these have not since been restored. Mr. Blaine also sought to adjust the trouble, as it was felt that British agression on South American soil came dangerously near an invasion of the Monroe doctrine. Mr. Blaine's efforts also failed, and the status has remained unchanged until the recent reports of hostilities and the determination of this Government to make a final effort toward concluding negotiations. In the event of Great Britain accepting the suggestion of arbitration, it is believed President Cleveland would be designated as arbitrator. The fact that arbitration has once been rejected does not include that Mr. Bayard's present efforts are hopeless, as his familiarity with the subject will permit him to make a strong personal presentation of the case to Lord Kimberly.

Two hundred insurgents appeared near the sugar plantation of San Lino yesterday. They were led by Matagas, who is characterised as a bandit, but sympathizers of the patriot cause say this accusation is unjust.

The Government was notified by a loyal person of the presence of a large party in Rodas, and a detachment of volunteers was sent there with three officers and five members of the civil guard. They reached Rodes in two hours and went in search of Matagas. The Joops were found in Los Cumos near Santiago, where the insurgents were ambushed in an excellent position. A hot engagement, lasting over an hour, ended in a victory for the loyalists.

This great business is not of mushroom growth, business methods and intelligent and dis-criminating advertising. For twenty-five years this company was likewise the leading lard producer of the world, and abandoned lard merely because a new world was to be conquered. With keen business perception they saw in cot-ton seed oil the basis for a still larger busi-ness in a more healthful, more economical and in every way more desirable food prod-uct than lard. When this new product was perfected and their plans carefully arranged they turned their attention from the lard they turned their attention from the lara business, and, with a courage born of the confidence that they had produced what the world had so long demanded, viz: a sub-stitute for lard, they launched "Cottolene." The quick acceptance by the public of this really meritorious article attracted the attention of the ever-ready imitator, and the market was soon flooded with imitations, But Cottolene was first in the heart of the people, and those who use it are not likely to go back to lard or accept an imitation.

The N. K. Fairbank Company attribute The N. K. Fairbank Company attribute their success to the merit of the articles they produce; to the fact that their products are staple necessities of life, not luxuries, and to careful, thoughtful, persistent newspaper advertising, which they continue through all seasons, in hard times and in good. In the advertising branch of the business they are represented by the well-known firm of N. W. intelligently and guardedly, or it becomes misleading.

The Copeland specialists treat all chronic maladies at a never-deviating fee-rate of $5 a month, including all the required medicines, which is regarded by many as indicating benevolent motive. But a low fee in itself is no more evidence of essential humanity than a low price for cheese or beans is evidence of clear charity. A medical system becomes benevolent in operation only when it represents correct medical theory, to begin with, and when it makes the saving of human life and the alleviation of human distress a more immediate purpose than pelf and profit, just as bread becomes a charity when offered at a loss in times of suffering and hunger.

So that the Copeland system cannot properly be termed a benevolence—a charity—excepting in the fact that it places the saving benefits of enlightened medical science within the means of great numbers who would otherwise perish by inattention and oversight. But it is not intended exclusively for those who have only means enough to pay quarter fees, any more than the U.S. mall service is intended exclusively for those who have only 2 cents to pay for postage stamps.

It cured me up in great shape and took but very little time to do it. I might say, however, that my aliment was something a good deal deeper than a common disorder of the stomach and bowels. It was a catarrh that began in the head and throat and then gradually ran all through my system. It was like a catarrhal blood poison, affecting almost every organ in the body. Besides the chronic sore throat, the dripping mucus, the nervous hawking and spitting, the dizziness, headache, roaring in the ears and other miseries enough to drive a man craay, my kidneys had become affected, causing me not only a great deal of pain and distress, but a great deal of anxiety. The Copeland ireatment, however, cured the whole rrouble—throat, stomach, bowels, kidneys and all."

"I would be averse to making any public reference to my recovery under the Copeland treatment, but my case seems rather an unusual one and I have felt a desire to have the facts known. In the first place, I began the treatment only after my illness had so weakened and wasted my system that I had become bedfast, and it was this fact that caused such doubt among our friends and neighbors as to my ever getting well.

"I had been in poor health for a very long time, but my rapid and really frightful decline began early in July last with some deep infiammatory soreness of the lungs, the bronchial tubes and almost the entire chest. The feverish pain and distress was attended with a cough that was violent, convulsive and almost incessant, its weakening effects being increased by very profuse night sweats.

"At the same time my stomach failed macopæia for the treatment of dis-being increased by very profuse night sweats.

"At the same time my stomach falled me. I was always faint, sick and wretched from nausea and dyspeptic headache or from a miserable sense of bloating and distension, and I soon began to suffer also from a debilitating diarrhea, which became chronic. By December I had lost twenty-five pounds in fiesh and it really did seem as though there was nothing that could stop my decline. But the results of Dr. Copeland's new lung treatment were simply wonderful. I was recovering almost before I could realize it, and it wasn't long till I was, comparatively, a well woman. My weight was restored to exactly what it was before my decline began."

THEIR BALANCE.

According to Troy Scales Senator Murphy Is Found Wanting.

HIS "MACHINE" DENOUNCED.

The Senate's Investigating Election Committee Scores the Democrats in Very Bitter Terms.

ALBANY, N. Y., March &-The report of the majority of the special Senate commit-tee to investigate the Troy elections is a bitter attack on United States Senator Murphy. After alleging that repeating, riot, as-sault and even murder have been committed, it says:

mitted, it says:

"It is the exemplified work of a desperate and hitherto resistless political machine, so adjusted, organised and rum as to enable individuals in the name of the Democratic party and in defiance of law, to overthrow government and thwart the rights of suffrage. This machine is an organization composed of professional politicians, having a recognized, acknowledged and responsible head, and operates through Democratic election officers and other outlaws, supported by a police force and a police department obedient to its obligations. This organization, known as the "Murphy machine," approves, rewards and protects its tools and thus perpetuates its power. The process known as repeating is accomplished by persons not entitled to vote going through the city, singly or in bands, voting in the various districts on the names of logally-registered voters. An agent of police, an ex-President of the Common Council, a member of the detective force, are samples of the official positions held by those who escorted and guarded those criminals in the commission of their crimes. In rare instances those aiding the repeaters claimed to be Republicans, but they are known as "Murphy Republicans," a class as much distrusted in theory as the Murphy Democrats themselves. They are on the Board of Police Commissioners, on the police force and in other stations, and abject submission to Murphy is the apparent price of their appointment. Their chief value lies in their pretended affination with the Republican party, for Democrats can be found in abundance to commit crimes; the need is to find men who will do vile services and at the same time, by professing Republicans, place part of the odium upon the Republican and rotten has been created and featewed "It is the exemplified work of a desperate of that party are responsible. Year after year Murphylsm has gained strength. One Republican has surrendered himself for Republican has surrendered himself for office, another for business advantage, another through fear, until scores of prominent Republicans who were willing to trade their political principles for personal advantage are now serving as Murphy Republicans. The effect upon the Republican party of this pernicious system is that large numbers of apparently respectable men claiming to be Republicans can be put into immediate and determined action at the bidding of Mr. Murphy, even though such action be against Republican measures and against the overwhelming sentiment of the Republican party.

whelming sentiment of the Republican party.

"In the fall of 1893, although the State gave a majority of over 100,000 against Isaac H. Maynard, Troy, in spite of the overwhelming and unprecedented popular uprising, gave Maynard a majority of nearly 6,000, the frauds of that election being without parallel even in that corrupt and degraded city.

"The conclusion of your committee in the city of Troy election crimes is that they are due to the utter disregard of the law by the leaders of the Democratic party, to a dishonest and incompetent police force and the subserviency of many so-called Republicans to the atrocious service of the Murphy machine."

SAYINGS VS. NATIONAL BANKS

Important Issue to Depositors Decided by the Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 6 .- The WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—The Supreme Court heard arguments yesterday in the case of Chas. Dores vs. The Elmore Savings Bank. The case involves the question as to whether the claims of savings banks shall have preference over other claims on national banks which have failed. This case involves large interests, as there are over $18,000,000 of savings bank deposits in the national banks of New York alone. The laws of many States clash with those of the United States in regard to this preference.

what are your reconcitions of the pearance of the city as it used to be?" was asked.

"Where this hotel now stands was a vacant lot. Most of the business houses were on Main street, with a few as far west as Third. Fourth street was entirely a residence street, and from Eleventh west it was all commons. We had a population then of 64,000 and we thought it quite a city. We had gas and also bus lines running.

"The principal business men I remember were John McEwen, Sam Gaty and Gerard Allen, who ran a foundry here and also the packet line to Keokuk. Jas. E. Yeatman was a banker then and a Mr. Browniee a merchant. C. K. Woodward was a bookseller near where the Planters' now stands (the old water works), and Peter Lindell lived near. Dr. McDonald, Dr. Frazer, Dr. Moer and Dr. Barrett conducted an invalidshotel on Second and Walnut streets and did much good during the cholera. Of all the prominent members none are left, and, I presume, few of the old business men.

"I was present in the early '60s when the first ground was broken for a railroad west of the Mississippi River. The address was delivered by Edward Bates, afterwards First Attorney-General in Abraham Lincoln's cabinet. I shall never forget his words: 'Htheric it has been said. "Westward the

I hereby revoke that sentence and declare hereafter the star of empire rests over the City of St. Louis.'

Dr. White has been a clergyman over fitty years and is now in his 77th year. Yet he is a vigorous old gentleman and says that though he is a little under the weather now he is only about 35 when well, and is good for at least seventeen years more of service. He has not used coffee in over fifty years, and his nerves are as steady as a surgeon's, notwithstanding the fact, as he says, of his having run the gauntlet of three doctors recently who got him in a corner and one said: "Double the dose or he'll die," and the others predicted if they did double it if would kill him, so it was die or 'be killed either way. "And still," said the Doctor with a merry twinkle in his eye, "I lived in spite of them."

REAL ESTATE NEWS.

A Beautiful Suburban Tract Near the Spanish Pond.

St. Louis suburbs will be pushed this year as nover before. Not only will the subdi-visions that are already on the market be advertised extensively and boomed in every sense of the word, but the number of firms who will handle suburban property exclusively is evidence that some of the present farms near St. Louis will soon be platted and improved with telford roads, granitoid walks, gutters, etc. The surveyors and civil engineers report that they were never so busy drawing plats and preparing for im-provements than will be started as soon as made.

REAL ESTATE NOTES.

J. T. Donovan left Tuesday for Jefferson City, where he will deliver a lecture on chinch bugs before the State Board of Agriculture, of which he is a member.

One of the properties that will be available for the Capitol ground, if the removal is made to St. Louis, is a portion of the old Benoist Farm. Mr. Donovan stands ready to offer this property and $200,000, if St. Louis County gets the capital.

E. B. Wolff has returned from his hunting trip.

Tuesday morning a hunting dog named Cherry, belonging to Arthur T. Hollister of 5635 Cates avenue, got into a fight with a mastiff dog owned by Samuel Rathell, the real estate man of 5613 Cabanne avenue, at the corner of Clara and Cabanne avenues, Cherry was being worsted, when his owner endeavored to part them. After an unsuccessful effort, he drew a knife and cut the mastiff on the right flank, inflicting a wound three inches deep and one and a half inches long. half inches long.

The child that cannot digest milk can digest Cod-liver Oil as it is prepared in Scott's Emulsion. Careful scientific tests have proven it to be more easily digested than milk, butter, or any other fat. Representative Tatum introduced in the House a bill for reorganization of the Board of Curators of the State University. It provides for a board of nine, six of whom are to be elected by the graduates, one each annual commencement day, to serve six years, and the other three to be appointed by the Governor. Mr. Tatum says that Capt. Wm. Eads and Gardner Lathrop of Kansas City, both curators, have expressed their approval of the measure, and he will try to get it through this session.

STATE LEGISLATURES.

SPRINGFIELD. Ill., March 6.—The Benate passed the following bills: Wells' bill to prohibit the manufacture by convicts of cigars, drugs, food, tc., except such as is used in penitentiaries; Evans' bill to enable cities to levy a tax of 2 per cent on the gross receipts of foreign fire insurance companies for the benefit of the fire departments in such cities, and Templeton's bill to prevent bill discussive to report all cases of blindness in infants at birth.

In the House Committee on Labor and Industrial Affairs the sub-committee's substitute for Mr. Curley's bill concerning black-listed employes was adopted and ordered reported favorably as a committe bill. It makes it unlawful to blacklist any laborer, provides for the issue of certificates of competent service to falthful workingmen, and that a workingman's connection with a strike or any union shall not prevent his obtaining employment.

alias "Red Hanion," a young noodium with a police record, and who is hired, says Gallagher, by the padrones to builty the newsboys into selling the Post-Dispatch only when a purchaser is willing to pay for two other afternoon papers.

Mr. Gallagher has had trouble with Hanneran before and Mrs. Gallagher and her daughters are unable to go out on the street without being insulted by this man or some of his associates. Yesterday evening Hanneran went into Gallagher's store while it was crowded with women and children and commenced shooting into the crowd with the intention of killing Mr. Gallagher. His alm was bad, however, and after he had fired the second shot he was knocked down by Gallagher and pushed out on the sidewalk. Mrs. Gallagher then handed her husband a revolver and told him to defend himself, and as Hanneran fired the third time he returned the shot and then the hoodium field. Gallagher ran out in the street after him and chased him around a wagon several times trying to get a shot while Hanneran shot at him under the wagon and through the wheels. The streets were lined with people at the time returning from their work and they had a pretty lively time of it dodging bullets. Hanneran finally ran into a hallway at 1920 Frankin avenue and escaped. Gallagher was arrested but was released at once. He will prosecute Hanneran when caught.

Count De Castellane and Bride Depart for Europe.

WILD SCENES AT THE PIER

NEW YORK, March 6.—About fifty people were gathered about the saloon passenger gangway of the American Line pier to-day when the Gould carriage came rapidly down the dock. These early comers had their curiosity satisfied when the Count de Castellane stepped out of the carriage and assisted his bride to alight. The Countess wore a tan skirt, an Astrakhan jacket, with a yellow rose at her waist, a small black hat and a black veil.

The New York was overrum with a mob of the curious who were looking into every state-room in the hope of being able to see the ones which the Count and Countess had engaged for the trip across. The crowd had a good view of the newly-made Countess, and as she stood at the head of the companion stairway waiting for the Count, who had stopped below for a momont's talk with one of the ship's people. When he reached the Countess' side they passed quickly to their suite of rooms on the upper deck and remained there until the steamer had cleared from the dook.

Before secluding himself, however, the Count in speaking of their plans, said: "From Southampton we shall go direct to London, where we shall stay for four days. Then we intend to cross the channel and spend a week in Paris. That will be the beginning of an extended tour through long."

Furope, which will last, I know not how long."

The sufte the Count and Countess occupy is No. 5 on the upper deck and consists of four rooms. Their baggage consists of forty-one pieces, including trunks, portmanteau, boxes, cases, parcels and endless smaller articles.

Before the ocupie reached the boat Charles Raoul Duval superintended the sending up of a case of wine to suites 5 and 6 on the promenade deck. Following the case of wine arrived a quantity of flowers and each lot of them was followed by an eager, gaping, almost hysterical crowd of women, who lined along the pier and fought for the near-lest places to the saloon gangway.

Miss Helen Gould sent down a bouquet of 200 American beauty roses. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gould sent down a bouquet of Gould came a superb bunch of blue and white orchids and a quantity of long-stemmed American beauties.

He held a conference with City Counselor Marshal and ascertained that it will be impossible for the Coroner of the county in which the body is interred to hold an inquest or a postmortem on the remains and then have all the papers approved by the local authorities. Furthermore City Counselor Marshal told Coroner Atkinson that nothing can be done to Lulu Howard, who inflicted the fatal wound, as she is already paying the penalty for the deed, and this serves as a bar to further prosecution. The court authorities made a mistake in bringing the Howard woman up for trial before it was determined whether the Johnson woman was out of danger or not.

APPEAL FOR WEBRASKA'S AID. Merchants Committee Ask for Subscriptions for Seed Grain.

The merchants of St. Louis have begun active work toward raising funds to furnish seed wheat, corn, etc., to the droughtnish seed wheat, corn, etc., to the droughtstricken farmers of Nebraska and Kansas, and to that end have issued a circular which is being mailed to the merchants of the city.
It calls for subscriptions to be forwarded to Walker Hill, Treasurer of the committee.
It is estimated that 2,500,000 bushels of seed grain will be needed and a large additional amount for stock feed.

Calls for assistance have been received from these Nebraska towns: St. Paul,
Indianola, Alma, Scotia, and from Hoxie,
Kan., and Wray, Colo., and the committee urges upon the business men of the community that they respond to the needs of the sufferers as liberally as possible, particularly as Chicago is already taking active steps to that end.

Gov. Halcomb of Nebraska has written a letter to President Booth of the Merchants' Exchange expressing his thanks for the courtesy shown the committee which visited St. Louis last Friday and for the promises of assistance made them.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 6.—The amendment which Jones of Cook County yesterday afternoon had tacked on to the resolution calling for an investigation of the city council of Chicago is supposed to be the outcome of the bold statements of Mayor Hopkins in his message to the city council last night referring to the leading members of the Civic Federation as tax dodgers. Jones amendment directs that the committee investigate the subjects for taxation in the various towns of Chicago and Cook County and report any injustice or inequality. Further consideration of the matter was postponed to the next meeting of the committee.

THINK TWICE

Before You Put Something Into Your Stomach You Know Nothing About.

THOUSANDS DO SO EVERY DAY

Without a Thought of Consequences.

The stomach is the most important and the most abused organ in the body.

If a person catches a little cold on the lungs he immediately seeks treatment for it. If his kidneys show symptoms of weakness he becomes alarmed at once. But if his overworked stomach rebels he pays no attention to it until sleeples. It is a scientific combination of weakness he becomes alarmed at once. But if his overworked stomach rebels he pays no attention to it until sleeples. It is a scientific combination of weakness and lack of energy show plainly that something is wrong. He loses in weight and has pains in the chest and limbs.

Dr. Amsden says that thousands of people in this condition never think of ascribing the trouble to the stomach, but they dose themselves with loudly advertised "incry's tonics," "spring medicines," "pring digested food," etc., and then wonder why they don't get well.

All of these things are so-called secret remedles, patented medicines, which is not a secret patent medicine, but is a scientific combination of vegetable essences, fruit salts, pure pepsin and bismuth. Some idea of the remarkable success of this remedy may be gained by a perusal of the following:

EMMA LEON ON TRIAL.

She Is Charged With the Murder

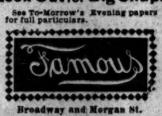

The trial of Emma Leon for the murder of SeBastian Wenzel at 314 South Fourth street Sept. 21 was begun in the Criminal Court this morning. Attorney Ashley Clover appeared for the defense. Dr. Heine Marks, Superintendent of the Dr. Heine Marks, Superintendent of the City Hospital, testified as to the nature of the wound. Ex-Coroner C. A. Frank testified as to the post-mortem examination held by him. He stated that the cause of death was an internal hemorrhage of the liver and kidneys, due to a bullet wound. Mrs. Julia Wennel, wife of the deceased, stated that about 6:30 s. m. on Sept. 21, she heard two pistol shots outside her house. Looking out she saw her husband in the act of taking a pistol sway from Emma Leon on the porch in front of the house. She ran down stairs and was informed by her husband that he had been shot. He told her to run for a doctor at once, which she did. When she returned Emma Leon was being placed in the patrol wagon by the police.

It is said that the defense will be frenzy produced by drink and an alleged assault committed upon the prisoner a day or two previous by a man named Goff. It is thought the case will go to the jury this evening.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 6.—In the Rouse this morning the Senate amendments to the Lancaster-Stark judicial bills were concurred in. These amendments make the bill practically like the bar association bill, the provision for three judges in the Lancaster bill being changed to two. The bar association bill, amended in the Senate so as to provide for the abolishment of the St. Louis Criminal Court in January, 1897, was also reported and the amendments concurred in. Col. Bothwell stated that these bills have been agreed upon by the judiciary committees of both branches.

The Lyman beer inspection bill was favorably reported to the Senate this morning. Its author claims that it will be passed, Owing to the lateness of the session, it is doubtful if the bill gets any consideration in the House engecially as the House has already killed one beer inspection measure. The House passed the Higbee osteophy bill, No. 465, prohibiting any person practicing osteophy without a diploma from a legally established school teaching this branch of medical science. This measure will give the institution at Kirksville, Mo., a monopoly of the business of teaching and practicing this, branch of science in Missouri.

The Illinois law which permitted Mrs. Bestecta V. Eckels to obtain a divorce from her husband, Joseph E. Eckels, in less than an hour in the East St. Louis City Court is understood by only a very few persons outside of the legal profession. To these who were unacquainted with the nature of the law it doubtless appeared very strange that the woman could be divorced in such a summary manner while her husband was imprisoned on a charge instigated by her, as reported in the Post-Dispatch of Tueday. The fact is that the proceeding was perfectly legal, though it could not have been done without the consent of the husband in writing. The Clerk of the Court J. G. Carr explained the matter to a reporter of the Post-Dispatch, "The defendant in a divorce gase may waive the right to summons and personal appearance by entering his appearance in court in writing." he said. "This was done by Eokels yesterday. Eckels filed an answer to his wife's bill for divorce over his own signature and thereby made it possible, according to the provisions of the law, for the case to be docketed and tried at bnee, which was done. This does not make it possible, however, for husband and wife to connive at a legal separation, as the case must be tried the same as any other. That is, evidence must be introduced to satisfy the court that there are good grounds for a divorce. The peculiarity of the law is that it permits the immediate trial of a case, though it does not make a divorce any assier to obtain."

In the Eckels case the plaintiff and her daughter gave testimony as to the acts of cruelty alleged to have been committed by the defendant. The evidence was sufficient to establish grounds for a divorce and Judge Canby. Accordingly entered a decree in favor of the plaintiff. At the last term of court a similar case was tried, but no divorce was granted, as the plaintiff failed to show sufficient grounds. Martha J. Denny of Lebanon brought suit for a divorce from Thomas J. Denny, and the husband entered his appearance in writing, but made no

Count De Castellane and Bride Depart for Europe.

WILD SCENES AT THE PIER

NEW YORK, March t.—About fifty people were gathered about the saloon passenger gangway of the American Line pier to-day when the Gould carriage-came randily down the dock. These early bomers had their curiosity satisfied when the Count de Castellane stepped out of the carriage and assisted his bride to alight. The Countess wore a tan skirt, an Astrakhan jacket, with a yellow rose at her waist, a small black hat and a black vell.

The New York was overrun with a mob of the curious who were looking into every state-room in the hope of being able to see the ones which the Count and Countess had engaged for the trip across. The crowd had a good view of the newly-mads Countess, and as she stood at the head of the companion stairway waiting for the Count, who had stopped below for a moment's talk with one of the ship's people. When he reached the Countess' side they passed quickly to their suite of rooms on the upper deck and remained there until the steamer had cleared from the dock.

Before secluding himself, however, the Count in speaking of their plans, said: "From Southampton we shall go direct to London, where we shall stay for four days. Then we intend to cross the channel and spend a week in Paris. That will be the beginning of an extended tour through Europe, which will last, I know not how long."

The suffe the Count and Countess occupy is No. 5 on the upper deck and consists of four rooms. Their baggage consists of forty-one pieces, including trunks, portmanteau, boxes, cases, parcels and endless smaller articles.

Before the ocuple reached the boat Charles Raoul Duval superintended the sending up of a case of wine to sulles 5 and 6 on the promeande deck. Following the case of wine arrived a quantity of flowers and each lot of them was followed by an eager, gaping, almost hysterical crowd of women, who lined along the pies and fought for the near-set places to the saloon gangway.

THE JOSIE JOHNSON CASE.

Lulu Howard Who Stabbed Her Cannot Coroner Atkinson is trying to dis modus operandi in the case of Josie Johnson, the colored woman who died from the effects of a knife wound at Mullanphy Hospital on March I, and whose remains were removed from the city and interred at Chester, Ill., under the correct name of the deceased, Josephine Nelson. He held a conference with City Counselor Marshal and ascertained that it will be impossible for the Coroner of the county in which the body is interred to hold an inquest or a postmortem on the remains and then have all the papers approved by the local authorities. Furthermore City Counselor Marshal told Coroner Atkinson that nothing can be done to Luiu Howard, who inflicted the fatal wound, as she is already paying the penalty for the deed, and this serves as a bar to further prosecution. The court authorities made a mistake in bringing the Howard woman up for trial before it was determined whether the Johnson woman was out of danger or not. nodus operandi in the case of Josie Johnson

COAL CARRIERS.

The Ohio Traffic Association Meeting in

NEW YORK, March 6 .- The Ohio Coal olumbus, O., met to-day for the purpose Columbus, O., met to-day for the purpose of effecting plans for the material interests of the trade. J. M. Harris, Geyl Manager of the Toledo & Ohio Central Railroad, was Chairman and A. D. Smith was Secretary. The association is composed of bituminous coal carriers and producers. Representatives from the following roads were present: Pennsylvania, B. & O., Hocking Valley, Wheeling & Lake Eric, Toledo & Ohio Central, Cleveland, Loraine & Wheeling, Columbus, Shawnee & Hocking. The meeting was in secret.

HUMAN BONES POUND.

G. O. Crane has written to Chief Havingan that some laborers, while at work in an excavation on Sixteenth and Morgan streets, recently discovered a dead body, and that instead of reporting their discovery to the authorities, left the body as they found it and built the foundation over it. The men claimed that the odor arising from the remains was toe strong to permit of removing the body. The police learned that some human bones were found in the excavation and left there. The ground is to be opened in a few days and search for the supposed dead body will be made.

Held for the Grand-Jury. Held for the Grand-Jury.

In the case of Frank Weigmon, Larry Higgins and George Keiley, charged with having broken into the show window of F. W. Humphrey & Ca., about two weeks ago, and stealing therefrom an overcoat, came in before Judge Murphy this morning. Weigmon was held for the Grandjury in the sum of $500 and the other two prisoners were discharged.

Weigmon was later arraigned in the same court on another charge of burgiary and larceny, in which he, together with William O'Keefe and Thomas Eagan, are charged with having broken into the store of M. Ligshitz & Co., at 700 North Saventh street, on Feb. S. and stole three cases of shirts. All the prisoners were held to the Grandjury in the sum of $500 each.

MEXICO, Mo., March 4.—This morning all the striking miners at the Lanyon 4. Os a mines were put to work at their price, or cents a ton. The company tried to cut their wages down to 50 cents a ton, and they all atruck. New men who were put in their places have been discharged.

APPEAL FOR WEBRASKA'S AID.

Merchants Committee Ask for Subscrip-tions for Seed Grain.

The merchants of St. Louis have begun active work toward raising funds to fur-nish seed wheat, corn, etc., to the droughtnish seed wheat, corn, etc., to the droughtstricken farmers of Nebraska and Kansas, and to that end have issued a circular which is being mailed to the merchants of the city.
It calls for subscriptions to be forwarded
to Walker Hill, Treasurer of the committee.
It is estimated that 2,500,000 bushels of seed grain will be needed and a large additional amount for stock feed.

Calls for assistance have been received from these Nebraska towns: St. Paul,
Indianola, Aima, Scotia, and from Hoxie,
Kan., and Wray, Colo., and the committee
urges upon the business men of the community that they respond to the needs of the sufferers as liberally as possible, particularly as Chicage is already taking active steps to that end.

Gov. Halcomb of Nebraska has written a letter to President Booth of the Merchants'
Exchange expressing his thanks for the courtesy shown the committee which visited St. Louis last, Friday and for the promises of assistance made them.

WORK-HOUSE SMALL-POX.

The Mayor Sends a Communication

Mayor Walbridge directed a letter to be ly and strictly carry out the measures in-dicated in an accompanying letter from Health Commissioner Dr. Homan to the Mayor. These precautions are personal in-spection of every prisoner for small-pox aruptions and symptoms of the disease.

SMALL-POX IN ARKANSAS.

Little Rook Denies Admission to Ho Springs Persons.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 6.—The Little Rock Board of Health has issued an order that hereafter no person from Hot Springs shall be allowed to enter the city on health certificates during the prevalence of small-pox in that town. Last evening two men were arreated while coming into the city. They had been passengers on the north-bound Iron Mountain train, but got off a few miles from the city and walked in. They gave their names as Stephen Hassan and George Smith, and said they were from Hot Springs. Both were lodged in a secluded cell in the calaboose. Small-pox has appeared at Hollywood. Uriah Jordan, one of the leading citizens of the town, died yesterday. Forty cases are reported at Hot Springs to-day. All but two are convalescent. There are only two cases at Malvern, those of J. W. Williams, the depot ticket agent, and Lillian Cox.

FRAUDULENT WRITE-UPS.

Smooth Individual Victimizing Merchants With an Advertising Dodge.

It is understood that an individual claim ing to publish a paper having a circulation of 18,000, and to have the backing of the of 18,000, and to have the backing of the Merchants' Exchange, is calling on the members of the G. A. R., posts of the city, representing himself as a member of the order and soliciting write-ups of their business provided his papers are purchased at the rate of 5 cents per copy, cash in advance.

Mr. George H. Morgan, Secretary of the Merchants' Exchange, said that he had been called upon by a gentleman who held the receipt of one of the men for 35, for which he had promised him a write up and 100 copies of the paper. The name of the paper was the Bulletin of Commerce. Mr. Morgan stated that the Merchants' Exchange had not indorsed any such publication and that claims to that effect were fraudulent. It is learned that a number of business men have been victimized.

BY HIS OWN PRESCRIPTION.

J. M. McGlother, a Negro Physician of Kansas City, Was Killed.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 6.—J. M. McGlother, a negro physician, was killed here to-day by one of his own prescriptions.

McClother had been treating a patient in Argentine. Yesterday he left the woman a prescription, which she had filled. Last night she tooks a dose of the mixture and became violently ill. She refused to take any more, and this morning when McGlother arrived she told him shout it. McGlother arrived she told him shout it. Glother arrived she told him about it. Mc-Glother told her the medicine was harmless and laughed at her. Raising the bottle to his lips he drank of the contents. A few minutes later he was seized with convul-sions and died. It seems that instead of citrate of potash being placed in the pre-scription, as he supposed, cyanide of pot-ash, a deadly poison, was used.

Camden Families Flee in Their Nigh Clothes From Pire.

Specfal to The Post-Dispatch.

CAMDEN, Ark., March 6.—Fire destroyed three dwelling houses in this city last night. It originated in a house occupied by Mrs. Dr. J. N. Bragg and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Vickers, who had a very narrow escape with their lives. Miss Rosa Vickers of Little Rock was a guest of her brother and lost all her belongings. The building fell in just after they had escaped from it in their night clothes and with aingred hair. The fire spread to the houses of E. A. Burnside and Mrs. Southerland. The loss is $10,000, with only partial insurance.

WANT. TAX DODGERS. Peature of the Chicago City Council Investigation.

cil Investigation.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 6.—The amandment which Jones of Cook County yesterday afternoon had tacked on to the resolution calling for an investigation of the city council of Chicago is supposed to be the outcome of the bold statements of Mayor Hopkins in his message to the city council last night referring to the leading members of the Civic Federation as tax dodgers. Jones amendment directs that the committee investigate the subjects for taxation in the various towns of Chicago and Cook County and report any injustice or inequality. Further consideration of the matter was postponed to the naxt meeting of the committee.

THINK TWICE

Before You Put Something Into Your Stomach You Know Nothing About.

THOUSANDS DO SO EVERY DAY

Without a Thought of Consequences.

The stomach is the most important and the most abused organ in the body.

If a person catches a little cold on the lungs he immediately seeks treatment for it. If his kidneys show symptoms of perusal of the following:

able essences, fruit salts, pure pepsin and bismuth. Some idea of the remarkable success of this remedy may be gained by a perusal of the following:

But if his overworked stomach rebels he pays no attention to it until sleepless nights, distress after eating, nervousness and general weakness and lack of energy show plainly that something is wrong. He loses in weight and has pains in the chest and limbs.

Dr. Amsden says that thousands of people in this condition never think of ascribing the trouble to the stomach, but they dose themselves with loudly advertised "nervis tonics," "spring medicines," "predigested food," etc., and then wonder why they don't get well.

All of these things are so-called secret remedies, patented medicines, which are advertised to produce wonderful results, but they are all very careful not to tell you exactly what the wonderful preparation really contains. As a matter of fact "nerve tonics" are simply stimulants; they make you feel good for a day and the next day you must repeat the dose.

The doctor says, further, the only way to cure dyspepsia and stomach weakness is to go to the fountain head—treat the stomach to go to the following:

From Mrs. I. C. Race, Trenton, Mo.: I have only used half a box of the Tablets and they have surprised me with the amount on the without fhem.

Mrs. Charlotte Lane of Ransomville, N. Y., writes: "I have be go get stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and an almost astonished at results, they have benefited me so greatly. I have always understood that dyspepsia was incurable, but now know it can be cured, for I am fully satisfied with what they have done for me. I can eat and enjoy my meals a great deal better and feel better in every way and have only used one package."

From Mrs. L. E. Watts, Tampico, Ills. I have used Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and they are just what I want and what I have been trying in vain to get for years. Every person afflicted with poor digestion ought to give them a trial.

Cases like these can be cited without weaknesses, poor appeti

No more morose man than Boom Log Bill could be found in the lumber camp. No one knew whether his cynicism was natural or acquired, but certainly it was of a high, misanthropical quality. Bill certainly was a full-fledged, well-developed misanthrope and there was no milk of human kindness anywhere in his disposition. Of course, his reformation is the primary object of this tale. Having thus frankly stated the reasons why Bill should intrude himself in this narrative, it remains to explain why he was sour-grained and oblivious to the sweeter emotions which are er-scially apropos at this jovial season.

Many years ago, when Bill was a dashins declined an alliance without any visible or apparent means for sustenance. The pride of the foot ball team was in despair, but finally concluded to go west. Here his fortunes did not seem to improve perceptibly, and another long interval ensued. One day, as Bill was following the lowly occupation of disging a canal through land that was to be irrigated, a message was brought to him announcing the marriage of his sweetheart and asking that he forgive her, as the years were fleeting and fortune was a laggard-so she had concluded to take time by the forelock and become the bride of another, wages in spi

IS THE CLEARING

Business Men Think It a Restrainer of Trade.

RELIEF UNDER STATE LAW.

Lawyers Hesitate to Express an Opinion, But Appear to Believe Prosecutions Would Not Lie.

Business men who are feeling the effects of the Clearing House Association's charges for outside collections and Exchange on New York, are asking themselves whether the banks have not formed a combination to frinking what merit there is in anti-trust laws.

The first article of the constitution specifies as among the objects of the Association to make such rules and regulations as may be deemed advisable for the conduct of business of members between themselves and with other parties; the regulation of exchanges, the fixing of maximum rates to be charged on outside drafts and collections, and to provide for the imposition and enforcement of suitable penaities for the violation of such rules and regulations.

As a sample of the merchants' way of thinking this extract from "A Jobber's' letter will suffice:

hinking this extract from "A south."
er will suffice:

"Are the bankers of the city of St. Louis so powerful, so autocratic, or aristocratic, or so far superior to common mortals as to be exempt from the penalties to which all others violating the anti-trust laws of this State are subject? If not, why have not steps been taken to bring them before the been deen to bring them before the ar of outraged justice?"

OPINIONS OF LAWYERS.

A canvass of the lawyers does not develop nuch hope for the business men. When sked whether the banks had violated the nut-trust laws, Gen. John W. Noble nswered:

"I do not think they have, although I do not care to commit myself to an opinion without some thought." Ex-City Counselor Leverett Belf said:
"I do not think the anti-trust law has any reference to banking business, and I do not think the banks have violated that aw."

Charles Nagel said that experience has aught him the worthlessness of off-hand philons, and hence he would not venture aught him the worthessness of on-hand opinions, and hence he would not venture to give one.

City Counselor Marshall said he did not think the rules of the Clearing-house were a violation of the anti-trust laws. "If the Clearing-house Association is a chartered institution," he said, "of course its charter is subject to construction by the courts. If the courts found that its charter privileges and powers had been exceeded, naturally the rule would not be enforceable. Banks could violate the rule and not fear expulsion. If the association is a voluntary exchange, the act of each bank in making these charges for outside collections and New York exchange, is a voluntary act. It alone is responsible for what it does. The fact that other banks refused to do certain business with the bank in question, that is, exchange checks at a certain common meeting place, unless it made the same charges for collections, etc., would not affect the voluntary nature of the decision of each bank."

The Executive Committee of the Farm mplement and Vehicle Association adopted esolutions Theeday protesting against the cetion of the banks as hurtful to the im-lement trade of St. Louis.

A Thiel Frightens a Young Girl Into Convulsions.

Mamie McGes, aged 12, was frightened into convulsions by an unknown man who accested her in the City Park in East St. Louis and anatched from her hand a prayer-book, which was probably mistaken for a podestbook. The girl, who is employed as a nurse in the family of John M. Sullivan, residing at Railroad avenue and Fourth street, was passing through the park alone bout 7 p. m. when she was accosted. She was so frightened when the stranger grabbed her roughly by the arm and took the book from her that she swooned and fell to the ground, but soon recovered and hurried home. She collapsed and went into convulsions after she reached home, and for awhile it was feared she would die of fright, but she was soothed by opiates administered by a physician, and now she is out of danger. She is usable to give any description of the man who stole her proyer-book.

The miners and operators conference held at Flannigan's Hall ended without any permanent agreement in regard to the scale being entered into. The operators present promised to pay scale wages as long as possible, but would not bind themselves for a stated period, as they claimed such action would give the other operators of the district a big advantage over them. Another conference is to be held the latter part of this month.

MIDDLESBORO, Ky., March 6.—Tom Howard, while sitting at the table in his house near this city last night eating his supper was fired upon through the window and instantly killed, the rifle ball passing through his heart. Edward had some years ago killed Wm. Davis, his nephew, in a difficulty, and it supposed the assassination grew out of this. Howard is prominent in the mauntains, being a cousin of the Commonwealth's Attorney Howard of Harlin.

Complaint Against an Officer. Complaint against an Officer.

Complaint was filed with the Chief of Police Tuesday against Officer John Maloney of the Central District. The complainant is Adam Klepper, who lives in the neighborhood of Twenty-first and Papin streets. He alieges that the officer maltreated and cruelly beat him on Sunday last. The officer denies having assaulted Klepper.

THE MARKETS.

through Southers Illinois and Indiana says the mills in that section find the greatest difficulty in obtaining wheat to run on.

The stock of flour in ten of the principal markets, not including Minneapolis, was 689,150 barrels on March 1, an increase of 15,200 barrels during February, but 210,000 barrels smaller than one year ago. The Barge Line took out 84,348 bushels of corn in the tow that just-left.

The prospects are for a much larger area seeded to oats this year than last. Texas is putting in a larger acreage and Eastern Kanass is said to be seeding this week.

The actual exports from Argentina during 1804, according to the official report, was 59,200,000 bu. During last six months of last year Spain imported 5, 240,000 bu wheat, only 95,200 bu of which from this country. from this country.

The Liverpool Corn Trade News shows that Europe consumed in wheat and four equivalent to 189, rope consumed in wheat and four equivalent to 189, 800,000 bu during six months. Minneapolis wires that Pittsburg reports sale 110,000 bbls flour last week, the largest in

Stocks of Grain in St. Louis Elevators

ON 'CHANGE. WHEAT—It was almost complete stagnation in the speculative market during greater part of the session, so bare was the market of orders and of news. After selling off %c early in the day the market hardened and advanced %c, but it supered impossible to maintain any advance and late weakened steadily on a pressure to sell and not much demand. After declining %c the market recovered, but at close had sellers %a below yesterso this the run of market influences. Receipts were the lightest in some time, only 184,000 but being posted for Western markets, against 751,000 bin one year ago, but the cass demand not a bit laproved so far as could be seen. Foreign markets exhibited fullness and Liverpool was off %d. The clearances from four ports were only 44,000 bu. The weakest spot was seen late in the day after wheat became soft and declined. This withdrew about the only support the market had and the close was athere was hardly anything for sale, except that held in stock and the only buyes were for the elevators. BROKEN GLASS THE CAUSE

Dwight Effie, 'a Valuable Gordon Setter, Was Fed the Glass in Her Food, and Bled Internally.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 6.—Dwight Efficone of the most valuable Gordon setters brought to the Mascoutah Club's bench show by the Dwight Kennels, died last night under suspicious circumstances Broken glass had been given to her in Broken glass had been given to her in food, and she bled internally to death. Dwight Sarah, shipped in the same crate with Effic from Detroit, is also sick in the same way, but will probably recover. The dog that is dead was valued at $1,000. Just when or where the broken glass was given to the dogs is not known. The man in charge of them says they all left Detroit in good shape with no sign of sickness in the string.

SODALITY LEAGUE FOOT BALL.

St. Bridgets Deny the Claims of St. Teresas and Challenge Them. John J. Riley, President of the St. Bridet's Foot Ball Club, takes exception to the claim of St. Teresa's club to the cham-pionship of the Sodality League. He states was over and that no championship was de-clared. He further states that his club and the St. Teresas have played two tle games in their efforts to demonstrate which is the better, and issues the following chal-

is the better, and issues the following challenge:

On behalf of St. Bridget's Foot Ball Club.
I hereby challenge St. Tereas's Foot Ball Club to a match game of foot ball, to be played as soon as possible, the season now getting very late, grounds to be mutually agreed upon, but would prefer grounds which could be thrown open to the public.
If a park has to be used and admission charged, would prefer to give the proceeds to charity, as we are not desirous of making it a money scheme. We are willing to contest for a trophy or trophies, to consist of anything from eleven marbles to eleven gold medals, our only stipulation is that the match be to a finish, no limited time affair.
Now, if the St. Teresas want to play the match be to a finish, no limited time affair.

Now, if the St. Teresas want to play the Diels for the local amateur championship, let them first demonstrate that they are our superiors. If they decline to meet us, then we feel that we have first claim on the Diels to contest for the amateur championship of St. Louis. Very respectfully, JNO. E. RILEY, President St. B. F. B. C.

WHEELMEN'S BY-LAWS. The Board of Officers Will Adopt a New Set To-Night.

The Board of officers of the Missouri Division, L. A. W., will meet this evening at the South Side Club and award the State meet of Júly to one of the cities now bidding for it. Jefferson City, Shelbina and Macon have each asked for it and have put up a guarantee that it will be handled in good shape. The present indications are that Macon will capture the plum as the majority of the officers seem inclined to decide in her favor.

A new set of by-laws will also be adopted to-night. They will contain no radical changes and are intended to make Missouri's by-laws conform to the changes made by the National Assembly. Changes in the constitution will be recommended to be acted upon by the division at the annual Set To Night.

MAGRANE AND SCHRIEBER.

Lucky St. Louis Owners at New Orleans

William P. Magrane, the successful St. Louis race horse owner, heads the list of winning owners at New Orleans, with $3,276 to his credit, picked up during 72 days of racing. The record of Magrane's horses is 11 firsts, 10 seconds, and 11 thirds. Magrane shipped his string from New Orleans to Nashville recently. He expects to commence the spring campaign there or at Memphis. G. H. Landon, another St. Louis horseman, won $1,220 at New Orleans up to last Saturday. The Charter Oak Stable, which is owned by Abe Cahns won $88. With Magrane leading the winning owners at New Orleans and Schrieber topping them at San Francisco, it looks as though St. Louis is getting all the money at the big winter meetings. Schrieber has won over $15,000 at San Francisco, and he keeps on winning as regular as a clock ticks. Braw Scott, his consistent gray performer, captured another purse for him at Frisco Tuesday. Felix Carr, Schrieber's jockey, has a record of over 100 winning mounts at Frisco this winter. Carr's great ability in the saddle has been of incalculable value to his employer. ouis race horse owner, heads the list of Joseph F. Ullman, the St. Louis book-maker, who makes the foreign books at the Hawthorne race track, arrived in the city from San Francisco Tuesday. Ullman has been in San Francisco all winter with Ed Corrigan. He is interested with the latter, in the new race track to be built at San Francisco, and which is is expected will be ready for racing next winter. Ullman's mother resides here in St. Louis, and Joe stopped over to see her before going on to Chicago. Ullman and Barney Schrieber will control the betting privileges at Memphis this spring. Corrigan, Dunne and other prominent Hawthorne owners will race at Memphis before Hawthorne opens.

MOUTS IN A SCRAMBLE.

Madison's Free Ticket Scheme Overwhelms the Race Track Offices.

The local race track frequenters are have ng fat picking from the war between Madiand admission can be had at Madison and the gates are wide open at East St. Louis. It takes two bits to get to East St. Louis, however, and for that reason the economical sports are conferring their patronage on Madison, where they not only get in free, but also get hauled free in rallroad coaches to and from St. Louis and the race track. The free trains leave the Main Street Sta-of small-pox.

The Eastman Hotel which last week had $75 guests was forced to close its doors yesterday, owing to the exodus. A vigorous quarantine against all trains from the Springs has been established throughout Arkansas and at Malvern and Little Rock armed patrols have been established to guard the platforms. Not only are the trainmen compelled to keep all the doors of coaches locked, but passengers are forbidden to put their heads out of windows while passing through the town.

It is reported that there are sixty cases in the pest-house at Hot Springs and in addition a large number of houses throughout the town are decorated with yellow flags.

No native or visitor is permitted to leave that he is free from the pest.

Passengers who arrived at the Union Station this morning report a deplorable state of affairs and think it is only a question of a short time when all the large hotels at the Springs will have to close for lack of business.

Peculiar Accompaniment in the Shape of a Very Dense Fog.

"Beautiful Snow" awaited the citizens of St. Louis Wednesday morning to widely ovident disgust. There was a fall of two and one-half inches over everything and Observer Herndom says it was gotten up for our particular benefit, a purely local storm, central in St. Louis, and covering a radius of less than fifty miles. A rarely peculiar feature of the storm was a dense fog early in the morning, giving Luce later to a still denser smoke, which settled over the city in the absence of any current of air to dispell it. It will clear away by to-morrow, with no change in temperature.

It is an interesting fact that the heaviest fall of snow in recent years was in March, 1890. On the 30th and flat there was a fall of twenty and two-fifths inches.

LOCUST VALLEY MINE BURNED.

Supposed Incendiary Fire Which Interferes With Milan's Water Supply. ecial to The Post-Dispatch.

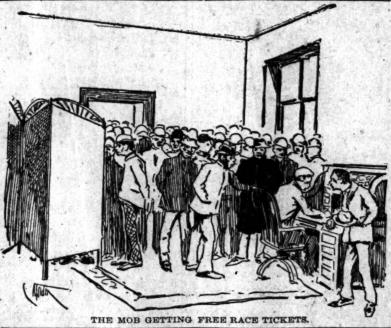

last night the Locust Valley coal mine was discovered to be on fire, and before any as discovered to be on fire, and before any assistance could be secured the flames had devoured all the buildings, engine house, and shaft, entailing a total loss to the company and Milan of $75,000, with but little insurance. About a week ago the mine had been ordered closed by State Mine Inspector Evans until an air shaft was sunk, which would have been done in the spring. The mine will likely never be operated again.

During the drought of the past year the citizens of Milan have been dependant upon this mine for their supply of water, which is now entirely shut off. The fire is thought to be of incendiary origin.
